Two for the SHO

Little Wonder Adds 6 Hp Unit To SHO Walk-Behind Blower Series

SOUTHAMPTON, PA (July 2004) – Schiller-Pfeiffer, Inc., manufacturer of Little Wonder and Mantis Landscaping & Gardening Power Equipment, is introducing a new 6-hp version of their popular Little Wonder SHO Blower. Through the design of the SHO, Little Wonder provides a powerful walk-behind unit that is easier for a single user to maneuver, lift and store.

Technology and design give the SHO Blower its aggressive power. The new 6-hp SHO weighs a manageable 115 lbs., features 12" pneumatic rear wheels for added maneuverability, and a technologically advanced composite impeller. The use of composite material supports the unit's lighter, more maneuverable style, but it's the design of the impeller that enhances its power. The SHO impeller is designed with forward inclined blades that work in unison with its curved inlet to create especially smooth airflow around the entire intake, and the curve of the inlet insures constant airflow - even if part of the inlet is covered with debris. By smoothing air intake the unit offers a more powerful, steadily continuous flow of air, which greatly enhances the velocity of the air discharged - far beyond what's expected from a blower of its horsepower.

Little Wonder SHO Blowers feature:

- Two engine models to choose from: 5-hp Honda & 6-hp Briggs & Stratton Intek
- An advanced composite impeller design
- Continuously welded high gauge steel, aerodynamic housing and curved air inlet
- Revolutionary side discharge system, which allows the operator to change air direction without tools
- A patented, split-opening deflector which eliminates "blow-back" or windrowing
- 12" pneumatic rear wheels for easy maneuverability
- Cushion-gripped, height-adjustable ergonomic handle
- Five-Year Commercial/Consumer Warranty

All Little Wonder products are designed with the professional user in mind and are engineered for heavy-duty daily usage.
